Finance Minister Presents L&T The Economic Times Good Corporate Citizen Award

The Finance Minister, Mr. P. Chidambaram, presented to L&T, The Economic Times (ET) Good Corporate Citizen Award at a glittering function in Mumbai on December 07, 2013.

The award, which had been announced earlier in the year, was received by Mr. A.M. Naik, Group Executive Chairman.

The Corporate Citizen Award is part of the prestigious annual bouquet of Awards for Corporate Excellence presented by ET - India's largest selling business newspaper.

Accepting the award, Mr. A.M. Naik said, “As a concept, CSR is ingrained in our DNA and has been part of our value system long before it became largely realised to do so. There is no short cut. The only way growth is sustainable is when growth is inclusive”.

The function was attended by captains of the industry; the who's who of India Inc. The awards jury cited L&T's steadfast commitment to CSR over the years. It said that over 700,000 people among the marginalised sections of the society are beneficiaries of L&T's on-going interventions in education, skill building, and mother and child care.

The complete coverage of the awards function is available in today's edition (10.12.2013) of ET.
